ACKNOWLEDGMENT

On behalf of the State Bar of Arizona, I want to express my thanks to the four attorneys who volunteered innumerable hours of their time to prepare the Arizona DUI Trial Notebook:

Bruce Chalk, for rewriting and reorganizing the book and producing a more practical resource for the practicing attorney, and for continuing to update the publication;

Christina Cabanillas, for her contribution to the section on “What an Officer Can Do at a Traffic Stop”; and Dan Carrion and the Honorable Dan Jurkowitz, for editing and reviewing the second edition of the book.

Finally, I would also like to acknowledge the work of Rick Poster, former Deputy Maricopa County Attorney, who compiled and edited the 1999 version of this book. His sample voir dire questions and sample direct questions for officers and experts have been included in this fifth edition.

The State Bar will endeavor to update this valuable resource on a regular basis.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Bruce H. Chalk has been deputy county attorney at the Pima County Attorney's Office since 1994 and supervisor of the Vehicular Offenses Unit since 1998. He received his B.S. in Geology from Northern Arizona University in 1988 and his J.D. from University of Arizona School of Law in 1993. Mr. Chalk served in the United States Navy from 1976 to 1982.

Christina M. Cabanillas is the Appellate Chief for the U.S. Attorney's Office for District of Arizona, where she supervises other appellate attorneys and staff, monitors the quality of the district's appellate work, advises the district's attorneys and staff, acts as liaison with the Department of Justice and Solicitor General's Office, and writes and argues appeals before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. She is a frequent local and national legal instructor on a variety of legal topics, including criminal law and procedure, legal research and writing, and appellate advocacy. She has taught at numerous conferences and seminars sponsored by the Department of Justice, various state and federal law enforcement and prosecutor agencies, the Arizona State Bar, the Federal Bar Association, the Arizona Women Lawyers Association, the National Black Prosecutors Association, and numerous other local and national groups. She is an Adjunct Writing Professor at the University of Arizona College of Law, where she teaches appellate advocacy and legal writing.

Carlos Daniel Carrion has been a deputy public defender with the Maricopa County Public Defender's Office since November of 1987 and has been Chief Trial Deputy Early Representation since 2001. From 1998 to 2001, he was the supervisor of the DUI Unit. He received his Juris Doctor degree from Arizona State University in 1985. He has served as a member of the Arizona State Bar Criminal Jury Instructions Committee since 1996. Last year he was appointed to the Arizona Judicial Council's Committee on Limited Jurisdiction Court.

Daniel Jurkowitz is the Supervising Attorney of the Employment & Elections Unit in the Pima County Attorney's Office Civil Division and was first certified as an Election Officer in 2000. He currently serves on the State Bar of Arizona's Professionalism Advisory Council and Public Lawyers Section Executive Council. He also currently serves as a Superior Court Judge Pro Tempore, on the faculty of the National Judicial College, as Treasurer of the Pima County Bar Foundation, and as a Fellow of the American Bar Foundation. Previously, he served as Chair of the State Bar's Professionalism Committee, Vice-Chair of the MCLE Committee, on the CLE, Technology, and Fee Arbitration Committees, and as President of the Pima County Bar Association. He began his career as a prosecutor with the Pima County Attorney's Office Criminal Division and is a graduate of the University of Arizona College of Law.
